

Application for Exemption to On Campus Housing

Riverland Community College places a high value on the on-campus living experience and, therefore, requests that all international students live in campus housing for the first year. Campus housing offers opportunities for students to become involved in the campus community as leaders and members. Students who live on campus experience living with others who come from different religious, ethnic, socio-economic and racial backgrounds. On-campus living also helps expand students' English skills by providing co-curricular activities and programs that improve the classroom experience.
